

FRUIT GROWERS IN SESSION AT BIGLERVILLE

Adams County Fruit Growers meeting today at the Knouse Foods Cooperative cafeteria at Peach Glen learned that, where once only one apple spray schedule was considered sufficient, the growers this year will have their choice of four schedules—to be used depending on how much money they want to invest, what their orchard problems are and what finish they may want on their fruit.

For the last several years two spray schedules have been recommended by State University Extension specialists, one designed for canneries apples in which growers were not too interested in the perfection of the finish, the other designed for apples to be sold across the counter which must have the highest possible "good to eat" polish when they appear in the stores.

This year four schedules give an even greater choice to the growers.

Conditions "Not Too Bad"
Conditions in the orchards of the county are "not too bad," according to the specialists at this morning's session, but they warned of danger spots in the continuous battle against insect pest and disease.

Listed today was a captan-glyodit schedule, a captan-glyodit midweek schedule, a sulphur-ferbam midweek schedule and a combination of sulphur-ferbam with either of the captan-glyodit schedules.

The two captan-glyodit schedules were said to attempt to balance pest control, fruit finish and yield, with the notation that, while the cost per acre may be greater, research plots have shown that the cost per bushel is usually less. The sulphur-

32 STATIONS TO CARRY WGET LINCOLN TAPE

A special Lincoln's Birthday program prepared by WGET for the Gettysburg Travel Council will be broadcast over 32 radio stations in Pennsylvania and Maryland this weekend.

The program, suggested at a recent meeting of the Travel Council, proved more successful than had been anticipated. Donald Manning, president of the council, said today in praising Parker H. Cunningham, manager of WGET, and his staff for the preparation of the special broadcast from the Gettysburg National Cemetery.

A total of 36 requests was made for the taped program, but four of the requests arrived too late for the staff of the station here to duplicate the tape for shipment in time for the birthday anniversary Sunday.

Ask Other Programs

The program features the voice of John K. Weitzel, staff announcer for WGET, and combines music and voice to tell the story of Lincoln, particularly in connection with his Gettysburg Address. Chief Engineer Lester Blair and Manager Cunningham made most of the 32 tapes, which combine a total of 16 hours of air time. The program is one-half hour in length.

Cunningham said 50 of the 103 stations to which the program was offered on a sustaining basis responded. Of the 36 asking tapes, all said they would also appreciate future similar programs from Gettysburg. WGET will present the program itself at 8:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

Estimate 2,500,000 Hearers

Cunningham said a conservative estimate would be that 2,500,000 people in the two states will hear the broadcast.

The stations planning to broadcast the program include WRTA, Altoona at 9:30 o'clock tonight; WLBR, Lebanon; WFIL, Philadelphia; WDAD, Indiana, Pa.; WBBP, Beaver Falls; WBPZ, Lock Haven; WCHA, Chambersburg; WTEL, Philadelphia; WKOK, Sunbury; WKPA, New Kensington; WSBA, York; WFBG, Altoona; WFIT, Pittsburgh; WMCK, McKeesport; WPTS, Pittsford; WVAM, Altoona; WNAE, Warren; WAYZ, Waynesboro; WDAS, Philadelphia; WNAV, Annapolis; WISL, Shannock; WGPA, Bethlehem; WNCC, Barnabrook; WHLM, Bloomsburg; WPBA, Pottsville; WHWL, Nanticoke; WESA, Charleroi; WABL, Apollo; WHVR, Hanover, and WFMD, Frederick, all of which will present the program Sunday. The amount given so far, with several weeks still to go judging by prior years' experience, compares with $3,769.75 donated by the motorists in last year's entire campaign. The $3,726.66 reported today is $366.49 higher than the amount reported one week previously.

Mrs. Codori, again expressing her appreciation to the county's car owners for their "more than generous donations," asked however that those planning to donate do so within the next three weeks to permit closing up of the annual fund drive to raise money for persons suffering from infantile paralysis.

Abraham Lincoln

A revealing article on how the Great Emancipator expanded the great powers of the Presidency.

BRUCE CATTON

Editor, American Heritage
Pulitzer Prize Winner, Historian, Journalist

IN THE spring of 1861 the commanding general of the U. S. Army, Lieutenant General Winfield Scott, scrutinized a curious document which—bearing the signature of the new President, Abraham Lincoln—had just reached his desk. In flat violation of all normal procedure this document authorized a private citizen, one Francis P. Blair Jr., to remove from office the Army commander at St. Louis, Brigadier General William S. Harney, and replace him with Captain Nathaniel Lyon, whenever Blair and a self-constituted Committee of Public Safety in St. Louis should decide that the step was advisable.

Old Scott studied it a while and then took his pen and scrawled his own endorsement:

"This is revolutionary times and therefore I do not object to the irregularity of this."

Secessionists Hard Hit
As a direct result, a mere infantry captain presently took charge of Army operations in Missouri, and he struck so vigorously at the Secessionists there that he kept that slave state from formally leaving the Union and so enabled the Union cause in the west to get off to a winning start in the rapidly developing Civil War.

The irregular delegation of possibly non-existent authority by which Lincoln caused this to be done was just one of several actions which,

BLACK WALNUT SCOUT DISTRICT SEEKING $4,000

The Black Walnut District of the Boy Scouts today was completing plans for the annual financial drive in the district outside Gettysburg and for the annual "University Of Scouting" held in conjunction with the Conecago Boy Scout district.

Harold L. Ecker fund drive chairman, said the campaign for contributions to Scouting will begin "about the end of next week" in announcing the selection of a number of chairmen for areas within the district.

The drive chairmen include Harold Garretson, Bendersville; Elmer Trump, Gardners-Idaville; Floyd Kuhn, Cashtown; Robert Willis, Fairfield; Roger Smith, York Springs; Fred Nagle, Greenstone-Fountaindale; Richard Felix, Barlow-Two Taverns, and Charles Ritter, Wilbur Bankert and Theron Spangler, Littlestown.

New Lines This Year
The district, newly reorganized last month in a move that changed Littlestown from the Conecago to the Black Walnut District and moved East Berlin and Hampton from Black Walnut to Conecago district, now embraces all of the county west of a line drawn roughly from Littlestown to Bonneauville to York Springs.

Gettysburg has already donated $2,500 to the Scout district drive through the Community Chest campaign. The district hopes to raise $4,000 or more in the remainder of the area in order to secure a full-time field executive for the district. At present Charles Bright, Hanover, serves both the Conecago and Black Walnut districts as well as having other duties with the York-Adams area council.

Plan "University"

John C. W. Riddle, district chairman, also announced today plans for the annual University of Scouting which will begin February 21 at New Oxford High School and continue for about five weeks afterward. For adults, the school is open not only to scout leaders, but to anyone else interested, Riddle said. A feature of this year's session will be special handicrafts course for Den Mothers.

National Boy Scout Executive Henry Henninger will give special instruction at the Den Mothers handicraft course March 6.

Basic courses in Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Explorer lore will be presented as part of the "University." A special one-night session will be held for committeemen on administration of Scout troops and Explorer posts.

Cites FDR Promise

"Roosevelt said: 'I have promised the American mothers that their sons will never fight on foreign soil' yet we soon had 12 million men involved in the Second World War. Hazard Harry went into Korea without the consent of Congress. Do we want that again?"

"Recently the CIO said that I was one of nine congressmen who could not be re-elected if we wanted to. I believe in organized labor. But they don't have the right to dictate what the American government is to do."

"The Democrats have said that we do not have a good air force. Yet the head of the U. S. Air Force has said that it is not equaled anywhere in the world. They have said that we are way behind in guided missile development. The President said at a news conference, 'It is strange I have not heard the information they seem to have.'"

"No Budget, No Tax Law
"The young fellow in short pants who is masquerading as governor in Harrisburg has no budget and no tax law. He had his stooges write a speech for him when he went to the west coast to criticize President Eisenhower. He said that Eisenhower was 'among the craven.' I thought I knew the meaning of craven but when the boy used it I looked it up to be sure. It means a coward. He called Eisenhower a recreant—unfaithful to duty. Yet as supreme commander, Eisenhower had the greatest of responsibility. He said that Eisenhower had a lack of confidence in himself—afraid to meet the leaders of other states. Yet as NATO commander Eisenhower worked with the leaders of other countries and received the highest decorations those countries could give to a non-citizen. He says Eisenhower lacks confidence in himself. Is it any wonder that thing has collapsed in Harrisburg?"

"Let me explain the 'brink of war' policy. You know what happens."

pened to Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria. The Soviets threatened them. They said they would shoot unless they were let in. And those countries could not call the Soviet bluff. We did go to the brink of war when we said we will fight and not be bluff. Out of necessity of drawing a line we went to the brink of war — if you cross we will fight. If the line had not been drawn, they would have gotten Formosa. Japan would have fallen and Okinawa would be indefensible. The Soviets would have extended their influence all the way to New Zealand and Australia and the free world would not have had anything west of Hawaii. There is a difference between the line Acheson drew and the one Dulles has drawn. Acheson's line showed the Soviets where it was safe to get in. The present line means, 'Get inside this line and we'll shoot.' With this firmness backed by the President the Soviets now do not dare to enter.

Stopped War In Korea

In the Near East the Soviets are trying to stir up war between the Jews and the Arabs so they can intervene. Of all the things the Soviets have, they do not have enough oil. But here also the President went to the brink of war when he said that he would use all his constitutional powers to preserve peace.

"The fact is he was able to stop the war in Korea. The Democrats started it, did not know how to finish and did not know what to do with it. Eisenhower said that if he was elected he would go to Korea to see if he could stop the war. The Democrats argued that a newly elected President should not risk his life by going so far away from home. But he stopped the war," Duff said.

Duff Is Lauded

State Senator Donald B. McPherson introduced Senator Duff. He said: "Senator Duff is a forceful, direct and business-like man. He brings strength to the Republican ticket. When he was governor, he was the governor. He had no college professors telling him what to do. In 1949, when he was governor, was the last business-like session the senate has had."

John H. Baschore, chairman of the Adams County Republican Committee, was the master of ceremonies. Baschore said in his opening remarks, "There is no more fitting place to honor and praise Abraham Lincoln than here at Gettysburg. He belongs to Gettysburg. Gettysburg symbolizes the ideas for which he stood. Because of the address given here at Gettysburg, Lincoln is associated with this place in every corner of the world. Under Lincoln and Eisenhower we are dedicated to the cause of sustaining the freedoms in the word." Baschore said.

Student Speaks
Frederick S. Weiser, Gettysburg College junior, and a student of Lincoln since 1945, gave a short talk on Lincoln. He said that "Lincoln was an ugly man with a high squeaky voice but that behind the front was a warm heart that carried him through the hard years of the presidency." He said Lincoln lived by the Golden Rule and the Sermon on the Mount. "Lincoln had a faith and confidence in the people to make the right decisions." He said that Lincoln's chief concern was the unity of the nation. Weiser spoke of the bell in The Gettysburg Times window as the bell that rang when Lincoln came to Gettysburg. "Lincoln's address was a bell — sounding throughout the world. The bell said, 'There is a government in America of the people, by the people and for the people,'" Weiser said.

"Fred G. Pfeffer recited Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. The Gettysburg Lions Club quartet sang several selections accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Bartholomew. The singers were David Bloser, Paul Grove, Clarence Bartholomew and Walter Meighan. Grove, professor at Gettysburg High School, led the audience in group singing of old favorites.

The Rev. Dr. Howard Schley Fox, pastor of the Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church, gave the invocation and the benediction.
Among others introduced were: State Committeeman Frank Slonaker; George W. Baker, Abbotstown; Mrs. A. W. Butterfield, president of the Adams County Republican Women's Council, and Mrs. Emma Sheffer of the political activities committee.

The last Union Army veteran is 109 years old today and his eyes are set on a horizon of peace.

The sight of Albert Woolson may be dimming, but his thoughts and his voice are not.

In booming tones that belie his recent bouts with lung congestion, the old soldier said:

"This business about war is all nonsense. 'I see a peaceful life ahead of us.'"

While admiring President Eisenhower, Woolson makes no bones about naming Ulysses S. Grant as his favorite president.

"WE HONOR LINCOLN"

Every year we honor Lincoln... man of great humility... who by word as well as action... strengthened our democracy... man who lived through untold chaos... carrying a heavy load... but with kindly understanding... paved a truly noble road... not for politics or party... do we cherish his great name... it was the human qualities... that won him lasting fame... honesty where it was lacking... love, when love was hard to find... little is it any wonder... he is praised by all mankind... hailed by poem, song and story... his examples were sublime... there is good reason to believe... they'll live through-out all time... so each year we honor Lincoln... man of great humility... who by word as well as action... strengthened our democracy.

their new Four-Year Program, "Onward For God And My Country," during Boy Scout Week, marking the organization's 46th anniversary.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief Scout executive, says the new program seeks "through organized and trained manpower to give an increasingly better program to an increasing number of the nation's youth" and to "help today's youth to 'Be Prepared' as citizens of character, to be prepared in body, skill, spirit, will, and as a member of a team."

He declares it will give youth "further opportunity to develop physical fitness, self-reliance, the fulfillment of one's obligation to God, a sense of personal responsibility, a spirit of helping people, a willingness to share, and an understanding of the government's democratic processes."

During Boy Scout Week, this week plans will be completed for the strictly nonpartisan 1956 National Get-Out-The-Vote Campaign which the Scout organization is sponsoring jointly with the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge. Scouts distributed in 1952 more than 1,000,000 posters and placed 30,000,000 Liberty Bell doorknob hangers in their first nationwide get-out-the-vote effort. This effort was said to be an important factor in the record turnout of sixty million voters.

It is believed that four million Scouts and adult leaders can be a great influence among parents, relatives, neighbors, and others to produce another record vote this year.

The campaign seeks to instill in adults the determination and responsibility to exercise their franchise as free people and take a more active part in their government. Each Scout will have an opportunity to participate and better understand his responsibility as a citizen.

Here are some interesting facts concerning Boy Scouts who this week are observing Boy Scout Week commemorating the 46th anniversary of their founding:

Scouts of 60 nations belong to the International Scout Conference, with membership totaling 6,360,792 at the end of 1954... 4,100,000 Scouts belong to 538 local councils and 104,000 units... More than 12,000 Scouts attain Eagle Scout rank each year... Boy Scouts will conduct a nonpartisan Get-Out-The-Vote Campaign again this year.

In the eastern floods in 1955 Boy Scouts engaged in rescue, delivered food and good drinking water, and served as messengers for relief officials... 850 Scouts made trips to Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Alaska, and Europe in a year... At a recent school for training Scout executives men taking the course included leaders from Finland, Brazil, Norway, Burma, and the Philippine Islands... Indian boys go for Scouting. Four hundred at the Intermountain Indian Summer School at Brigham City, Utah, are members of 16 Scout units.

Since 1910, more than 24,500,000 boys and leaders have Scouts of America... For saving or trying to save life, 165 Scouts were honored in one year for heroism by the National Court of Honor... In the Cub Scout program 220,000 women are registered as Den Mothers... Congress granted a federal charter to the Boy Scouts of America in 1916... Boys can enjoy Scouting over a ten-year span, from age eight to eighteen.

Scouting's main purpose is to train boys in character, leadership, and unselfish service... The President of the United States serves as honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America during his term of office... The Boy Scout Law requires each member to do at least one Good Turn for somebody every day... Boy Scouts planted 6,192,753 trees in 1954... Boy Scouts assist state and local civil defense organizations.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Despite new industry in eastern Pennsylvania, unemployment is still high, especially among coal miners, according to John R. Torquato, state secretary of labor and industry.

"The employment gains in new industries have barely offset contemporary mining losses," Torquato, state secretary of labor and industry.

Stately, secretary, gave her report. Mrs. Stately was appointed to be leader at the next meeting on Thursday, March 8, at the church, when Mrs. Starnier and Mrs. Starry will be hostesses. During the social hour refreshments were served to the group by Mrs. Reiman and Mrs. James L. Rhoades.

British Brides Of Countess Arrive

Abroad Queen Mary: Mrs. James Donaldson and Mrs. Huxton G. Simpson, first two British brides of Adams county servicemen to come to the United States, arrived in New York harbor Sunday aboard the Queen Mary and were greeted by their respective husbands.

Mrs. Simpson, formerly Joyce E. Smith of the British civil service, will reside with her husband in their newly-purchased home in McKnightstown. Mrs. Simpson is in the pulpwood trucking business. Mrs. Dora Donaldson's husband lives in Oertanna and works for the state highway department.

Holy Name Unit Picks Officers:

Frank Rosenfeld, West High street, was re-elected president of the Holy Name Society of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church Sunday evening at the annual reorganization meeting held in the parochial school social rooms.

Bernard Maguire, East Middle street, was re-elected secretary and Charles Dillman was re-appointed wardman.

Say Gettysburg Needs 100 More Housing Units:

A tightening of the housing shortage here was predicted today by local real estate agents.

They also added that rents — particularly rentals of apartments — will continue to rise, although none looked forward to a general increase of all rents.

Gettysburg needs at least 100 more housing units — houses or apartments — if it is to meet the demands of all who want homes now or will need them in the near future, according to the consensus of the agents. One set the figure as high as 200 homes. Most of the homes are needed in the $25 to $30 a month rental class with one agent saying that about 60 houses of that type are needed.

Give $10,000 For Fairfield Water System:

Fairfield already has had a donation of $10,000 toward its proposed water system and is expecting to complete plans for construction in the near future after a suitable source is obtained for the water and materials are available.

The borough is scheduled, members of council said, to float a bond issue to raise the money for the water system. Fairfield is the only large town in the county at present without a municipal water system.

The $10,000 donation will come from L. E. Beaudin, Hanover, owner of the Fairfield shoe company, who according to E. A. Seabrook, Fairfield borough secretary, has agreed to give the borough that amount toward the building of the system.

BIOGRAPHY

One of the most curious, as well as interesting, books in my library is one by the late Norman Douglas, the famous author of "South Wind." The book is in two volumes and is called "Looking Back, an Autobiographical Excursion."

Douglas had come across an unusual bowl in his many travels and had it on a table in his home, where it was used for his many visitors to deposit calling cards. This covered many years, and naturally contained the cards of many a famous personage of his time.

This two-volume book is made up of the comments on his visitors' cards, as Douglas took each one up. One can imagine the spicy comments, for Douglas usually said what he thought. If he took up a card that he could recall nothing about, he merely put a question mark below it and went on to the next card, which might occupy several pages, as in the case of Laocœon Arturo, his faithful servant, W. H. Lawrence, Gaisworthy, W. H. Hudson and scores of others. In this manner he pieced out a most absorbing book about himself, his activities and his friends.

Many a person's useful life is written in the deeds he has performed, as in the case of Edison and many another who has founded schools, organizations, and made discoveries that have benefited all mankind. Illustrated in the life of Pasteur. Every day there are those who are observing our life as it is being lived, and often written.

History is but the story of people's lives — what they said, what they did, and the effect of their lives upon posterity. Many an unwritten biography is yet to be written. Emily Dickinson had to wait fifty years before her biography was written! Then biographers sprang up like mushrooms!

PERFECT GARDEN

Soon the marigolds will bloom.
Bigger, better than before,
And the lilacs shed perfume
Richly near the kitchen door.
Autumn's asters will be gay,
Sturdier than they've been for years.
Gardens make a fine display
When the catalog appears.

Roses all are aphids free,
Beetles leave the buds alone;
Cutworms never seem to be
Where the fanciest things are grown.
Too much sun and too much shade
Never seem to interfere;
Perfect every bloom and blade
When the catalog is here.

Should I live my life again,
For a seedman I would toil,
Undisturbed by wind or rain,
Planting things in fertile soil.
I would banish every foe,
Pests, and neighbors' cats and dogs,
Every little thing should grow
As it does in catalogs.

DEMOCRATS BACK CARR AS COURT NOMINEE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The surprise policy committee endorsement of a Uniontown attorney for the nomination to the State Superior Court today rounded out the Democratic statewide ticket for the April 24 primary election.

Philip Carr, former U. S. attorney and son of Judge W. Russell Carr, of Fayette County, was endorsed for the court nomination by the 86-member policy group Thursday on the strength of recommendation by Gov. Leader.

The governor opened the closed meeting by announcing he will send Carr's name to the Senate next week for appointment to the post made vacant by the death of Judge F. Clair Ross.

"Will Appoint Carr"

"The governor said he would appoint Carr and told the committee he 'hoped' it would give Carr its endorsement," said Sen. Barr, Democratic state chairman.

Carr's appointment would have to be confirmed by the Republican-dominated Senate before it could become effective.

The organization slate of candidates endorsed for the primary election is headed by former Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. of Philadelphia, for U. S. senator.

Other Endorsed Candidates

Other candidates endorsed on the statewide ticket are:

Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen, York, for a 21-year-term on the State Supreme Court.

Francis R. Smith, Philadelphia, state insurance commissioner, for auditor general.

James Knox, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County controller, for state treasurer.

Expresses Delight

In a statement following the meeting, Leader expressed "delight" at the committee's choice and added:

"Not only is this one of the strongest slates ever selected in Pennsylvania, but it includes some of the ablest and finest men in the Democratic party—men who are outstanding campaigners as well."

He expressed "confidence" for victory in the fall election.

In other action the committee unanimously endorsed Adlai Stevenson as the Democratic nominee for president on a motion by Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh.

Hold "Agreeable" Meeting

The endorsements were given during a 90-minute meeting which Carr described as "harmonious and agreeable."

Clark, who is seeking the Senate seat now held by Republican Sen. Duff, accepted the endorsement with "great thanks."

"This is something I have wanted all my life I intend to work like hell for the seat," he declared.

The 41-year-old Carr was the only endorsed candidate unable to attend the meeting.

Goes Unmentioned

Most speculation centered around the race for the Superior Court endorsement with several names projected into the picture just before the meeting. Carr's name, however, was not among them.

Barr looked upon the slate as a "splendid ticket behind which we can win."

He described Clark's endorsement as a "powerful lift to the party incentives of the Democratic organization" and predicted the former Philadelphia mayor would defeat Duff "hands down."

Cohen and Smith promised to conduct vigorous campaigns and forecast victory in all races while Knox promised to "go up and down the state to every little town and hamlet to win and make the Republicans like it."

Abraham Lincoln

A revealing article on how the Great Emancipator expanded the great powers of the Presidency.

In the weeks immediately following the bombardment of Fort Sumter, Lincoln took in order to insure final preservation of the Union.

Without Congressional authority he called out 75,000 troops and paved the way for a huge enlargement of the Army and Navy. Equally without formal authority, he caused immense financial commitments to be made — contracts for guns, ammunition, uniforms, ships and many other things.

Writ Is Suspended

He suspended the writ of habeas corpus in Maryland and his troops put numerous members of the Maryland legislature in jail. He proclaimed a naval blockade of the entire Southern coastline. In short, he accepted the fact of Southern Secession as the creation of a state of war, and he lost no time in assuming full war powers to meet the emergency, although it would be many weeks before Congress could meet and ratify his acts.

The immediate effect of all of this was to make certain that the Civil War would not be lost before it had fairly begun. But the ultimate effect — one whose consequences are still with us and presumably will be for all time to come — was an immense enlargement of the sphere of authority in which a President of the United States can operate.

Office Is Expanded

For Lincoln not only "saved the Union," in the common school book phrase; he took the office of the Presidency and made it a much bigger and more powerful institution than it had ever been before. He established precedents which have been of service to Presidents ever since him. He pushed back the rather shadowy limits which the Constitution had placed on the President's authority and he pushed them back permanently.

At bottom, Lincoln's authority for doing this was simple enough: the direct Constitutional provision which makes the President the executive officer of the government. In substance, the Constitution says that the President is the man who is to get things done. It is not always clear about precisely what he may do or precisely how he may do it, but it clearly makes him the action arm. Lincoln had taken an oath to preserve the Constitution; to him, that meant preserving the government and the nation of which the Constitution was the fundamental charter. Carrying that responsibility, he reasoned that he could invoke powers equal to the need. So he acted, and old General Scott's rationalization of his acts was as good as any — the times were revolutionary, and hence it was not necessary to object to irregularities.

Buchanan Did Nothing

The contrast between what Lincoln did and what was done — or not done — by President James Buchanan, his immediate predecessor, makes the case clear.

Buchanan believed that the Union ought to be preserved. He did not believe that the Constitution gave any state the right to leave the Union. But he could not find in the Constitution any clause which said that the President or anybody else had the power to prevent Secession if it should be attempted. As a result he sat in the White House, wringing his hands, and did nothing at all, and by the time his term ended Secession was an accomplished fact and the emergency was full blown, awaiting only some such act as the bombardment of Fort Sumter to touch off an explosive flame.

Congress Was Jealous

Buchanan took the literal, accepted view of his powers. Lincoln took a new view — quite simply, that the President's powers in such times are pretty largely set by the size and nature of the emergency confronting him — and he acted on his view. The Presidency immediately became a much larger office.

It was not all easy going, of course. Not since Andrew Jackson had there been a President who believed in using all of the latent powers which went with the office. Congress, then as always, tended to be jealous of a strong executive. According to a widely held view — which even U. S. Grant followed, some years later, when he himself moved into the White House — it was Congress that set policy, and the President was little more than an officer who carried out Congressional decisions. A President who would boldly take the lead and act, letting the argument over legal authority come later, seemed a dangerous innovator.

Resisted Congressional Efforts

So Congress tried in various ways to re-assert its own authority and thereby to narrow that of the President. It set up a Joint Committee on the Conduct of the War, with some notion that it would select generals, pass on strategy and define war aims. It tried over and over again to tell Lincoln who should and who should not be in his cabinet. (Neither of these ventures worked out quite as Congressional leaders had hoped; each one gave Lincoln endless trouble and no doubt put fresh lines in his care-worn face.) And as the war drew toward its close, Congress insisted on assuming the major role in determining just how the Southern states might be returned to their full status as members of the Federal Union.

But Lincoln called most of the shots. He was the government's executive officer, he was com-

ELECTION YEAR FARM BILL GETS OK IN SENATE

By EDWIN B. HAKKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—An election year farm bill which combines President Eisenhower's soil bank plan with the rigid price supports he says would nullify it was approved early Friday by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Brushing aside the President's contention that such action would "defeat the main object of the soil bank," the committee confirmed the 8-7 vote last Saturday by which it had tentatively approved supports at 90 per cent of parity for wheat, cotton, corn, rice and peanuts.

Going beyond its Saturday action, it added special provisions to benefit dairymen and growers of burley and flue-cured tobacco, and voted to figure parity prices on the higher of two formulas.

New Formula Is Lower

Parity is a price determined under farm law to be fair to producers in relation to their costs. An older formula was replaced this year by a newer one which had the effect of lowering parity prices on most crops.

Chairman Ellender (D-La.) said the alternative provision, adopted by a 9-6 vote, could prevent a drop of about 13 cents a bushel in wheat supports and lesser amounts on other basic crops.

The committee, which started work Thursday morning, went beyond midnight before completing its bill, which still must be drafted into final legal language. The measure then will go to the Senate.

Sees "Big Fight"

Ellender said he expects Senate debate to get under way about Feb. 20. And he predicts "a big fight."

A return to the higher rigid support program would knock out the flexible support program which the Eisenhower administration pushed through in 1954. Setting the levels on a flexible scale between 75 and 90 per cent, it was designed to reduce overproduction by paying farmers less when their crops were not needed.

Eisenhower proposed this year to supplement the flexible program with a soil bank plan, under which farmers would be paid to plant less of the surplus crops than their allotments under the control program.

Okay Soil Bank Idea

He and Secretary of Agriculture Benson have contended that heavy government-owned surpluses acquired under the high-level support program have kept farm prices down. Once this surplus is absorbed, they said, farm prices will react to normal market conditions.

The Senate committee approved the soil bank idea, along with authorization of 750 million dollars to pay for it. Another 350 millions was authorized for a conservation reserve, under which any kind of land could be planted to grass or trees for periods of 3 to 15 years.

To the kinds of farmers Eisenhower had proposed to make eligible for the soil bank payments, the committee added growers of burley, flue-cured and some types of cigar filler tobacco.

Reverse Action

Reversing an action of last Saturday, it also approved an increase to a minimum 80 per cent of parity in support levels for milk, butter and cheese. The House already has approved such a provision. Dairy products now are supported at 75 per cent of parity.

Despite objection by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), the committee voted that corn growers must

HOUSE CENSURES CHARLESWORTH FOR SPEECH

HARRISBURG (AP)—The controversial speech on politics and voting by Dr. James C. Charlesworth, a high administration official, has been criticized in severe terms by a House resolution adopted unanimously.

After being told the proposal represented the thinking of the entire Democratic House caucus, members adopted the measure on a voice vote Thursday. It was sponsored by nine Democrats.

"The general assembly unanimously deplores the tenor of the remarks made by Secretary Charlesworth and suggests to his superiors that they either silence him or appoint a successor," the proposal states.

Wants Vote Denied

Charlesworth, a former University of Pennsylvania political science professor and now secretary of administration, told a Philadelphia audience Feb. 2 that voting privileges should be denied those people who were "illiterate, indifferent and cynical."

The resolution says that Charlesworth's remarks "in no way" reflect the thinking of members of the House. It says it "will become any administrative official in this commonwealth's employ to express himself publicly in opposition to those principles which the citizens cherish."

Have Various Theories

Rep. McCann (D-Greene), a co-sponsor of the resolution, told the House that it is true "those who have taken political science courses have various theories on government... but our constitution guarantees all citizens the right to vote."

Other resolutions adopted: Favor continued state operation of the Capitol basement cafeteria.

John D. and Dora D. Settle, Franklin Twp., sold to Marcus Hoover, Gettysburg R. 3, for $1,000 a property in Franklin Twp., containing 73 perches.

SWITCHATHLETIC BOARD IN MARCH

HARRISBURG (AP)—A cabinet official says transfer of the State Athletic Commission from the revenue to the state department should be completed about March 15.

Henry Harner, secretary of state and an ex-officio member of the commission, said after a commission meeting Thursday that "we expect all of the transfer problems to be ironed out by the middle of next month."

The transfer was part of Gov. Leader's general government reorganization plan designed to tighten up and make some of the functions of the state administration more efficient.

"Work Out Routine Problems"

Commission chairman James H. Crowley said the main business of the meeting "was the working out of routine problems of the transfer."

Harner indicated that when the transfer routine is completed the commission will be able to administer the state's new boxing code more effectively.

Commissioner Alfred M. Klein said prior to the meeting that the commission intended to begin work soon on "tightening up" on the regulations governing boxing.

abide by acreage restrictions to be eligible for the soil bank payments. Such a requirement now exists for price supports, but the restrictions are not mandatory on corn as they are on other basic crops.

The committee also defeated 8-7 a proposal by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) for special premium payments to farmers who market lightweight hogs of 180 to 200 pounds.

Experiment On Rice

But the committee retained a special 250-million-dollar authorization to bolster market prices of pork, beef and other perishable farm products not under regular support programs.

The measure also includes a two-price plan for rice, which Ellender had proposed as an experiment.

Full support prices for wheat were limited to that of good milling quality produced in states designated as commercial wheat areas. Support levels for other wheat would be based on its value as livestock feed.

FRANCE FACES MORE RIOTING OVER ALGIERS

ALGIERS (AP)—Robert Lacoste arrived Friday to become Premier Guy Mollet's resident minister in violence-torn Algeria. Fresh rioting was threatened both here and in France as nationalists and colonialists planned new demonstrations.

As Moslems flocked to their mosques to observe their Sabbath, French settlers defied an official ban and ordered a huge rally later in the day in the main city square.

It was aimed at discouraging both French government peace efforts and Arab nationalist aspirations in the 15-month-old insurrection.

Officials had prohibited any parades or demonstrations but foes of Mollet-inflamed French war veterans, students and local mayors—formed an unofficial "Committee of Public Safety" and voted to hold a five-hour protest strike and march on the center of the divided capital.

While Lacoste was flying here, the French government Interior Ministry banned two scheduled Algerian protest demonstrations in Paris, one by French war veterans at the Arc de Triomphe today and another by leftist groups at the Place de la Republique Sunday.

Lacoste came in during a biting rain and a severe cold wave that authorities hope would dampen the Algerians' demonstration.

Authorities feared trouble might break out when Lacoste appeared to lay a wreath at the foot of Algeria's war memorial.

Foreign Legionnaires and mobile guardmen were in reserve in an effort to prevent a repetition of last Monday's rioting, when a mob hurled stones, eggs and garbage at Mollet.

The violence forced him to withdraw the appointment of Gen. Georges Catroux as resident minister and to name Lacoste as his substitute even before Catroux took office.

Warriors Weaken In Last Half And Lose To Trojan Cagers 76-54; Scrubs Bow

The Gettysburg High Warriors put up a nip and tuck for two and a half quarters before the Trojans of Chambersburg exploded in the third frame to swamp the Warriors 75-54, Friday night on the winner's court in a South Penn League game.

Gettysburg tallied their first points of the game after 1:25 minutes had gone by in the initial frame when Earl Little hit on a one handed push shot from the side. Up to this point Chambersburg had scored five times on goals by Eve Leisher and Herb Wells. Sam Butz and Merle Gorman then exchanged jump shots while Tom Harris landed a pair of charity tosses. Chambersburg maintained its five-point lead the remainder of the period as Butz, Faust and Harris continued to drive in for the layups. Gettysburg kept up with their fees by landing their two pointers from the foul circle off the hands of Little, Wagnild and Rolf Johnson. At the end of the first frame Chambersburg had taken the lead 21-16.

The Warriors pulled their biggest scoring spurge in the second stanza. Rolf Johnson and Jon Wagnild tossed in a couple of foul shots while Little, Johnson and Weishaar netted jump shots from the side to put Gettysburg out in front 25-21 for the first time in the game.

It took the Trojans two minutes to score in the second quarter when Faust tossed in a pair of fouls, but Johnson retaliated with a lay-up and foul shot. Butz added four points for Chambersburg on a lay-up from the side and two free throws. Johnson and Gorman ripped the cords on a pair of long jump shots but the Trojans started to roll as the quarter neared the end. Leisher and Butz combined on a trio of jump shots to move past the Warriors 35-32 with Faust added one more foul shot. Weishaar ended the frame with a jump shot from the corner but Chambersburg still held a narrow 36-34 lead at the half.

Trojans Pull Away

In the third frame the Trojans began to pick up as they outscored the Warriors 21-9. Sam Butz injected the most damage as he completed five out of five fouls and four goals. Harris, Wells and Leisher each chipped in with single two pointers. Johnson, Little and Gorman were the only men to hit for Coach Forney's lads in the quarter.

The biggest thrill of the frame came at the buzzer when Herb Faust cut loose with a shot from beyond the middle of the court which swished through the cords. After three periods, Chambersburg had jumped out in front 57-43.

Both coaches substituted freely in the last period, but this did not alter the scoring situation as Chambersburg continued to drop their shots. Butz and Faust landed the most goals with Hicks, Wells, Lynch and Leisher contributing single outside shots. Little connected on three goals for Gettysburg aided by two pointers from Wagnild and Johnson.

Sam Butz, flashy Trojan guard, was high man in the game with a total of 33 points. Butz landed 13 goals and a perfect seven for seven fouls. Johnson and Little paced the Warriors with 17 and 14 points, respectively.

Slow Start Hurts

The Gettysburg scrubs ran into trouble in the preliminary contest as the Chambersburg reserves came out on top 38-28. Gettysburg got off to a bad start when they tallied only one point, a foul by Staley, in the initial frame. Ken Keefe and Sid Steinhilber led the Warrior scoring with 14 and 10 points respectively while Mike Donahoe netted 18 for the winners.

Tuesday Gettysburg will be host to Waynesboro.

TELLS FARMERS OF SOIL BANK

One hundred fifty-nine farmers met at the Biglerville school auditorium Wednesday evening to discuss farm proposals including the "soil bank" for reducing crop surpluses.

Harvey Dastrup, Legislative Assistant for American Farm Bureau Federation, spoke in the place of Roger Fleming who was unable to attend. C. M. Wilson, secretary of Pennsylvania Farmers Association, also spoke.

Wilson used a work sheet on which the farmers used hypothetical acreages and values to demonstrate how the soil bank proposals will work. He also commented on Federal aid to schools and highways stating that organization was opposed to such activities on the part of the Federal Government.

Dastrup in commenting on farm program proposals said that the human element was an important consideration since the success of any such program depends on the willingness of farmers to participate.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Payments of $40,751,888 in overdue state aid to fourth class school districts in Pennsylvania has been completed by the state treasurer.
A total of 857 checks went out yesterday to complete the payment of past-due payments to 2,062 fourth class school districts. Only six fourth class districts, the ones with under 5,000 population and usually located in rural areas, remain to be paid money due last October.

Bisons To Meet Bullet Matmen Here Tonight

Three lettermen are included on the Bucknell University wrestling squad who will oppose the Gettysburg College grapplers here this evening at 8 o'clock.
Captain Stan Elison, 177; Ken Johnson, another 177-pounder, and Bob German, 157, are the holdovers from last year's team which won one and lost six.

Coach Gene Heas has announced that Bill Sells, 177, and Harold "Skip" Lewis, 147, will return to action this evening against the Bisons.
At least three exhibition matches between Gettysburg and Bucknell freshmen will precede the varsity engagement, the first event starting at 7:15.

DON'S STREAK IS LABELLED "MONOTONOUS"

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press
Coach Phil Woolpert of the San Francisco Dons calls his team's winning streak "monotonous." Some folks call it terrific. At any rate, the end doesn't seem in sight.

The Dons, the nation's top-ranked college team, are improving, if anything. Four weeks ago they defeated Fresno State to tie the major college record for 39 consecutive victories. The margin was 19 points, 79-60.

Last night, they beat the same team by a whopping 33 points, 79-46 for their 44th straight success.

The Dons clinched it early racing to a 24-10 lead in the first 10 minutes. All-America Bill Russell scored 23 points and grabbed more than 20 rebounds in the 26 minutes he played.

Temple was the only other team among the first 10 to see action and the once-beaten Owls racked up their 17th victory by drubbing Penn State 77-58.

In other games, LaSalle defeated Furman 73-65 despite Darrell Floyd's 26 points. Wake Forest moved into a second place tie in the Atlantic Coast Conference by overwhelming South Carolina 96-77 and Princeton tripped Harvard 68-55 in the Ivy League.

Elsewhere, Xavier of Ohio, already selected for the national invitation tournament in New York next month, coasted to a 92-78 victory over St. Francis (Pa.) for a 13-6 season's mark. Five Washington and Lee players hit in double figures as the Generals surprised Davidson 85-75 in a Southern Conference Game. In the Pacific Coast Conference, UCLA remained on top by edging Stanford 50-48. California beat Idaho 54-44. Washington finished fast to defeat Oregon 68-50 and Southern California ran over Washington State 76-55.

To the surprise of exactly no one, the Boiling Springs High School basketball team clinched at least a tie for first place in the Adams County League by outclassing New Oxford 74-33 at Boiling Springs Friday evening. It was the 12th straight league win for the Bubbler without a setback. Two league games remain.

New Oxford put up stiff resistance in the first period but trailed 19-12 at the end of the round and fell behind 30-18 at half. The Bubbler completely dominated play in the second half. Eddie Dasher hit for 23 points to top the 11 Bubbler who scored. Don Wiseman was top man for the Colonials with 14.

Bolts Drub Newville
Littlestown remained two games out of first place by easily disposing of Newville 73-55 on the winner's floor. Wil Gobrecht's Bolts roared off to a 25-13 lead in the first period and coasted to an easy triumph.

Stan Mummert, Al Snyder and Tom Gouker sparked the Bolts' offense with 23, 21 and 16 tallies, respectively. Neidig was the lone Newville player to get into double figures with 13 points.

East Berlin romped to a 70-47 victory at York Springs after taking a commanding 41-16 advantage in the first half.

Eleven of 12 Indian players broke into the scoring with Nelson Group leading the pack with 18. Jimmy Cashman tabbed 20 for the Springers who have now lost 12 straight league games and 15 overall.

Canners Rally
Fairfield gave the invading Biglerville High Canners stiff opposition before bowing 57-49. John McAndrews' squad took a 16-11 lead in the first period but fell behind 27-26 at half and then was outscored in each of the last two frames.

Don Bowers and Gene Shaffer rimmed 20 and 17 tallies for Biglerville while Eddie Spence collected 21 for Fairfield.

MOUNT DEFEATS ROANOKE 90-73 ON LATE SPURT

Mt. St. Mary's received a scare from the Roanoke College dribblers Friday evening at Emmitsburg before the Mountaineers spurred in the last five minutes of play to gain a 90-73 victory in a Mason-Dixon Conference game.

The victory gives the Mount a 7-1 conference record and 12-6 overall mark. Tonight the Emmitsburg outfit meets Baltimore University on the latter's court in another conference affair.

Roanoke got out in front 19-18 after 10 minutes of the first half and hiked its advantage to 44-36 at intermission.

Goals by Bill Stanley, Fran Smith, Jack Sullivan and another by Stanley knotted the score at 44-44 after three minutes of the second half.

The teams exchanged points with the Mount moving in front 65-64 after 11 minutes.

Brilliant Finish

With but five minutes remaining the Mountaineers had a scant 71-68 edge but then Coach Jim Phelan's lads opened up and rammed through 19 points while holding their opponents to but five points.

Sullivan, Smith and Stanley featured in the scoring spree.
Sullivan took the scoring honors with 33 points, Stanley chipping in with 16 and Smith 15. Top honors for the Maroons went to Ronnie Hawks with 17 and Dick Sparger with 16.

Bing Crosby's Son Sued For $100,000

TACOMA (AP)—Pvt. Phillip Crosby, 21-year-old son of crooner Bing Crosby, was sued for $100,000 in connection with an automobile accident Tuesday.

The suit was filed in the Pierce County Clerk's Office by Claude Pearson, attorney for 79-year-old Asa N. Brightwell, who was struck by a car driven by Crosby in near-by Tillicum.

The soldier is scheduled to report to Ft. Dix, N.J., on March 15 for overseas service.

Brightwell received a fractured pelvis and ankle in the accident.

Learning Details Of New Autos Can Be Profitable; Carbon Causes Motor Knock

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

The trouble most motorists face when looking over the new cars is reconciling yearnings with earnings.

There's profit for any car owner in looking into the details of the new cars. Not only will he then be more familiar with these models if he later buys one, but he will also pick up some ideas that may lead to surprises in the car he now drives. A friend tells me that until he was shown details of the instrument panel lighting of a 1956 model he did not know that his present car has a special under-dash switch for a map light. Another motorist did not realize that there were two forward driving ranges on the automatic transmission.

Then there was the fellow who allowed himself to be caught in deep snow because he did not realize that merely by taking off the two chrome covers of the rear wheels he would find holes through the wheels through which to attach emergency chains. Looking over the provisions for cooling the automatic transmission on one of the new jobs another owner learned for the first time that the automatic drive on his car is water cooled. In adding anti-freeze he had never figured the extra cooling capacity for this feature. It is surprising how many owners do not get full value from their cars' heating and ventilating systems just because they have not taken time to get the full story.

May Be Faulty "Stat"
Failure to get proper warmth from the car's hot water heater, even where a high degree thermostat is being used, may simply indicate that the thermostat isn't working properly. It is also possible that the stat has been incorrectly installed.

It is always important to test the thermostat before installing it. This can be done by heating it in water until its valve raises about 1-44 inch above the seat. The rule is that if the valve moves at 10 degrees Fahrenheit below the figure stamped on the stat the whole unit should be replaced.

Oxide coating is said to be the most prevalent spark plug trouble of the day. Best way to meet it is to have the plugs cleaned every 3,000 miles or so.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:
"With compression ratios so close to the 10 to 1 point we will need to be wary of carbon deposits. I recently ran up against a case where the engine developed a loud tapping noise highly suggestive of a faulty hydraulic valve lifter. But when I demonstrated to him that the trouble did not start until the engine had warmed up, and that the oil did not break down, he decided to give the car a good workout up a long, steep hill. He came back to the shop all smiles. A particle of carbon in one of the cylinders became heated, glowed and preheated the gas to cause a bad knock. That hit treatment helped to blow the particle out the exhaust."

Part Of The Tune-Up
Just because the tune-up of the engine is in what we call the minor bracket, as opposed to a major check on the engine's efficiency, there's no excuse for overlooking a test of performance after the work is done. Mechanics who take pride in their work usually suggest this need to the customer or try out the car themselves, but too often the owner feels he is buying merely a minor job and that there is no real need for checking. Performance should meet the owner's demands, and if his standards are not very high he can perhaps be encouraged to desire the best. A good time for facing up to this is during the tryout.

Is the engine of your car really idling too fast?

That little red warning light which on many cars has come to take the place of the more familiar ammeter offers a handy clue where the car is equipped with an automatic transmission. Note whether or not the light is on when the engine is idling with the selector lever in "Neutral." No light means that the engine is idling fast enough for the generator to cut-in for charging. Now as a double check place the selector lever in "Drive." Here the engine is slowed down because of the drag of the fluid coupling. If the light goes on it means that this has slowed the engine down to a point where the generator is cut out. With such a setting of the idle speed control at the carburetor the car will tend to creep annoyingly when waiting in traffic with the selector lever in "Drive," and idling speed will be wastefully fast. An exception is when the engine first starts up cold. Here the controls on the carburetor may provide for fast idling for the warm-up period.

For Future Reference
Sometimes I wonder if it is an advantage to have modern brakes so easy to adjust because often this doesn't produce desired results. The truth is that before adjusting brakes that are really giving trouble one should also check for loose wheel bearings, loose brake backing plates and loose U-bolts of the rear springs if they are the leaf variety.

Prophets of doom who contend that the little fellow in business is about to give up the ghost apparently have not taken time out to check the facts as they are revealed in the case of the automobile business. According to facts released by the Automobile Manufacturers Association of the U. S. majority of automobile concerns are small. Of the 2,310 vehicle and parts makers 85 per cent employ under 250 workers. Twenty-five per cent of all car dealers have from 4 to 7 persons in their employ, while of the gas stations 73 per cent have three or less employees.

Cuts Down On Glare
One of the best ways to cut down windshield glare is to keep the windshield clean. Keep this in mind when dusk approaches, stopping the car in a safe place so as to clean the glass inside as well as out. If oily cloths have been used on the glass it may be necessary to stop at a filling station to have the glass thoroughly washed and, if necessary, cleaned with a mild cleanser. By eliminating the dust and dirt which causes light rays to go wild it is possible to face misaligned headlights with far less difficulty. Don't forget to clean your eyeglasses too.

6 COMMUNISTS ARE CONVICTED

CLEVELAND, (AP)—Six Ohio Communist leaders were convicted Friday after a week's deliberations ending a trial which began last Oct. 31.

A jury returned the verdict Friday after a week's deliberations ending a trial which began last Oct. 31.

It was the first time in 12 Smith Act trials throughout the nation that a jury had acquitted defendants who did not renounce communism in court.

There were three previous acquittals by directed verdict and one by a jury, but that defendant renounced communism in court. The Cleveland defendants admitted Communist party membership prior to their indictment on Nov. 9, 1953, but denied participating in any conspiracy.

Originally the indictment had included 11 persons. But after the testimony had been completed, the court held there was not sufficient evidence against David Katz, 42, a bakery truck driver and husband of Mrs. Frieda Katz, one of the defendants acquitted by the jury today. He was acquitted by a directed verdict.

Knifing No Link To Woman's Death

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police said Friday they are convinced that the brutal stabbing of a woman in West Philadelphia Thursday had no connection with the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Delma Eileen Cannon.

Mrs. Mildred Elizabeth Stanton, 35, was attacked early Thursday by a crazed man who stabbed her 30 to 40 times with a sharp bladed penknife. She is under treatment at Philadelphia General Hospital, where her condition was described as fair.

Several men were questioned by members of the homicide squad in the knife slaying of Mrs. Cannon, who was found dead in her first floor apartment Tuesday.

Mrs. Stanton, a divorcee, was employed as a waitress, as was Mrs. Cannon. Mrs. Stanton said her attacker leaped into her bedroom from a porch. He fled through the same window.

Before coming to the commission in 1930, Cadzow, 62, was an arctic explorer and made eight scientific trips to the North Pole region. Stevens, 51, a board member of a number of historical organizations and publications, was named historian in 1937 after serving as a history professor at Pennsylvania State University.

engine of my car near the water pump. Have tried soluble oil in the cooling system to try to check it. J. W. R.
A. This could be due to a loose impeller shaft.
Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

DR. S. K. STEVENS GETS STATE POST

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Museum and Historical Commission has dismissed Dr. Donald A. Cadzow as executive director and named Dr. S. K. Stevens, state historian, to the post.

Frank W. Melvin, Philadelphia, chairman of the commission, said the action was taken unanimously at the first commission meeting of 1956 Thursday.

Cadzow, who had been with the commission 27 years, declined comment on the dismissal.

Stevens, a Republican, has been with the commission 20 years. He is the author of a number of books on Pennsylvania history.

Melvin told newsmen that "this is not a political action" although Democrats now dominate the nine-man agency.

Before coming to the commission in 1930, Cadzow, 62, was an arctic explorer and made eight scientific trips to the North Pole region.

Stevens, 51, a board member of a number of historical organizations and publications, was named historian in 1937 after serving as a history professor at Pennsylvania State University.

Dr. Dillon Speaks On "Responsibility"

Dr. John J. Dillon, head of the English Department at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, gave a talk on "Responsibility" Tuesday evening at the 11th annual banquet of the Emmitsburg Grange in the Lutheran parish hall, Emmitsburg.

The speaker expressed concern over the "negative attitude taken by the younger generation today toward accepting responsibility." He stressed the tendency of present authors to "use as their major theme an attitude of criticism of the American Way."

Edgar G. Enrich was the toastmaster. Rev. Philip J. Bower, pastor of the Elias Evangelical Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg, offered the prayer. The women of the congregation served the dinner. Musical selections, both vocal and instrumental, were presented.

SEXTON ADMITS RECTORY THEFTS
LANSDALE, Pa. (AP)—Police Chief D. Howard Chapman of Montgomery Twp. said Friday a sexton of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church in Philadelphia has admitted stealing about $3,000 in cash, stamps, jewelry, silverware and watches from the church rectory over a period of two years.

Gordon Weitzel, 32, of Montgomery Twp., disclosed the thefts, according to Chapman, after his arrest on charges he threatened to kill his wife, Helen, 30, last Wednesday.

Chapman said Weitzel admitted the thefts. Much of the stolen goods was found, the police chief said, in a paper shopping bag at the home of Weitzel's mother-in-law at Lansdale.

The Very Rev. Henry E. Missig, pastor of the church, said Weitzel was a "trusted houseman."

Weitzel was committed to Montgomery County jail in default of $5,000 bail Thursday night by Magistrate Charles W. L. Moyer on charges of assault and battery with intent to kill.

Featherweight champion Sandy Saddler has lost only 14 bouts in 159 matches.

Jail Breaker Back In Cell; Confesses

GROVE CITY, Pa. — Jail breaker Stephen Rodgers is behind bars again today after meekly giving himself up to a farmer Thursday night.

The 34-year-old Rodgers drew a pistol from his hiding Thursday and forced his way out of the Grove City jail. Nine hours later he turned himself over to a farmer 10 miles north of here.

Rodgers, who said he used to live in Camden, N. J., was arrested Monday on a bad check charge. With him were a woman and an 11-month-old baby. The woman said she was Rodgers' wife.

Police said the woman may have slipped the gun to Rodgers when she visited him Wednesday. They said he had no gun when searched Monday. The woman has not yet been found.
